A MIRACLE MAKER!

EXTRAORDINARY EXHIBITION AT THE THEATER.

Helpless Cripples Carried on the Stage, Walk Off as Well as Ever in a Few Minutes!

"Why, it reminds one of the miracles of the olden times," was the remark of a lady at the close of Dr. Geismardo's extraordinary exhibition at the California Theater last night.

The Doctor's peculiar style of advertising, and his general and extremely bold statement that he would guarantee absolute cure in twenty four hours of rheumatism, gout, dyspepsia, neuralgia, kidney cases, general debility, etc., was also extraordinary and the result was that there was not even standing room in the California Theater when the curtain arose at 8 o'clock last evening.

Mr. Bold, the Doctor's agent and secretary, stepped forward and asked that a committee of well known citizens be appointed by the audience for the purpose of choosing subjects for treatment.

In response to calls from the audience, several gentlemen stepped to the front and took the seats reserved for the committee. Among the familiar faces on the committee were Joseph H. Scull, Prof. [illegible], Prof. [illegible] and I. H. Miller. Several physicians who were present were asked for but they did not go forward.

When the committee was formed, Dr. Geismardo was introduced. As the gentleman stepped quickly from behind the scenes and down to the footlights in the center of the stage it was apparent at once that he was a man of positive character, a man of great intelligence, and fully conscious of his extraordinary powers. He appears to be about 40 years of age, tall, well formed and handsome, and with his black hair, moustache and brilliant black eyes, he is a perfect specimen of a fine looking gentleman. He was richly dressed and wore white gloves and diamonds.

He removed his gloves and said he was ready for business.

The first subject was a boy who had been born without the use of his lower limbs. The Doctor examined him on the stage but quickly pronounced the case incurable because there was no life in the limbs. The Doctor took occasion to explain that he could not put life in dead matter, and that there must be life in the parts to enable him to afford relief or a cure.

The second case was a young man who had been paralyzed in his left arm. It was also pronounced dead and incurable.

The third patient was James Workman, a man nearly 60 years of age, who has been unable to walk, except with the use of two canes, for the past six years. He resides in the vicinity of the Woolen Mill, and is well known in this city. Dr. Geismardo carried Mr. Workman upon the stage and seated him upon a lounge.

In reply to the Doctor's questions, Mr. Workman explained that his troubles began about eight years ago, that he had tried a great many physicians and so-called magnetic healers, but that he continued to grow worse from day to day.

"I suppose you would be pleased to be able to walk without your sticks," said the Doctor.

"Indeed I would, sir," said the old man as he [illegible] up in the lounge.

"All right. I will make you walk so that you'll have no further use for them. Come with me," and the Doctor, as he lifted the old man in his arms, again carried him to the rear of a curtained space on the back part of the stage.

The [illegible] explained that the patient was [illegible] as it was necessary to strip him for treatment. During the next ten minutes Parkman's band [illegible] sweet music while Dr. Geismardo [illegible] attention to his patient behind the screen. A [illegible] containing various small bottles was on the table on the stage near the footlights, from which the Doctor took something every few moments and disappeared with it behind the screen.

Hardly ten minutes had elapsed before the old man walked out from behind the screen and up and down across the stage, looking as happy as a man could be, and apparently as lively as a man of [illegible] could be expected to be. The sympathetic [illegible] of the "whole world kin" was shown in the thunders of applause with which the old man and the wonderful Geismardo were greeted. During the balance of the evening Mr. Workman walked up and down through the aisles of the theater as if afraid that he might lose his grip on the walk if he did not keep it up.

All [illegible] who had not been able to stir up for three years. [illegible] treatment of less than ten minutes' duration the man was as nimble as an acrobat, and standing upon one foot he sat down upon the stage and raised himself without touching his hands to the stage, for the purpose of showing how thoroughly he had regained the use of his physical powers.

Several others were successfully treated for deafness and other ailments, and relieved in every instance.

Tim [illegible], who has been incapacitated for work for a long time on account of rheumatism, hobbled onto the stage and confronted the Doctor. The old man looked like the [illegible] of summer and was evidently broken up.

The Doctor gazed into Tim's intellectual face, and for an instant made a pass or two as if he would like to scratch the skin off of his nose. "Now," and then he said, "Now go on, walk," and Tim walked back across the stage. Then the Doctor gave him treatment behind the screen, and when the patient walked off the stage a few minutes later, he was apparently as well as ever.

It is safe to say that the Doctor can do everything that he agrees to do, and that his exhibition last night was the most extraordinary ever witnessed in this city.

The Beginnings of Sickness

Never trifle with what are called small ailments. A disorder easy of control at first, if neglected for a few weeks may become a mortal disease. Be especially careful not to let debility gain upon you, for it is the door through which all maladies enter the system. If you feel languid tired and to use a common expression "as if there was no life left in you," resort at once to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. That great vegetable tonic will supply the vitality you so urgently need. It is nerve food. By its tonic action the stomach is so invigorated that digestion becomes regular, easy, perfect; while its mild cathartic properties relieve the bowels from obstructions, and its alterative operation beneficially affects all the secretive organs. For the miseries of dyspepsia, and they include almost every unpleasant feeling that belongs to physical disease and mental wretchedness, this potent tonic is a certain and speedy balm.

WASHINGTON.

The Senate Discusses Logan's Army Measure.

SEVERAL NEW BILLS INTRODUCED.

Pacific Coast Affairs—The Northern Pacific Land Grant to be Jeopardized by an Official Investigation—Capital Notes

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Fair laid before the senate a memorial of an anti-Chinese convention held at Sacramento, Cal., praying some relief from the Chinese evil.

After routine morning business Logan's army bill was placed before the senate. Logan sent to the desk and had read a letter from Gen. Sheridan favoring the proposed increase. [illegible]

[illegible] opposed it. He thought it singular that while we are so thoroughly at peace a measure of this kind should be introduced. He had been sorry to hear the suggestion that an increased army was necessary to put down local troubles among our own people. It would not do to instill into the people's mind this lesson of force as a remedy for such troubles. The recent proposition was one calculated to develop more frills, shoulder straps and decorations.

Dawes opposed the bill. Control through an army was not the control desired. Self-control, Dawes said, was characteristic of our people and would settle through all their differences.

Teller saw no cause for an increase. Violence in the states should be put down by the people of the states. It was not desirable to resort to a standing army for police purposes, and the people did not intend that local disturbance should be put down by national troops.

MORE REMARKS BY LOGAN.

Logan defended his position on the bill. As to one of the arguments advanced by the senator from Kansas (Plumb) that because laborers were poorly paid soldiers should not be better paid than at present, Logan thought that very poor argument. It was very singular that most of the wealthy men and bankers rich enough to be hardly able to count their money were always found to be friends of the workingman. (Laughter in the gallery.) This was all right for the rich men to do, but when anything was said for the workingmen by those who had had the actual experience of the workingman, that was altogether improper. It was an unwarrantable assumption for any senator to intimate that this bill was now introduced with a view to any impending difficulty between labor and capital. Why this insinuating that there was a desire to use the army against the people. It seemed to some men that any statement that would injure another was a sweet morsel. It was an unfounded and unworthy insinuation. Referring to the suggestion that an increase of the army was wanted for show "for a circus," Logan repelled it. The people did not want any show about it, they had show and circus enough in the senate [laughter] and while the senatorial circus was on he did not know any more active performers than the senators who were opposed to this bill. [Renewed laughter.] In conclusion Logan said republicanism was become a power the world over and the United States should be prepared to say to the first European power that attempts to get a foothold in America "Lay on Macduff and damned be he who first cries hold enough!" [Applause in the galleries.]

After an executive session the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—In the house today Belmont of New York offered a joint resolution appropriating $147,748 to pay the Chinese government for losses sustained by their subjects by mob violence at Rock Springs, Wyoming, the sum being intended for distribution among the sufferers.

By Glover of Missouri—Forfeiting certain portions of the land grant of the Southern Pacific railroad company of California.

By Hermann of Oregon: A resolution instructing the committee on public lands to report back a bill declaring forfeited lands of the Northern Pacific railway company between Wallula and Portland.

By Houk of Tennessee—A preamble and joint resolution, reciting the existing labor troubles and providing for the creation of a commission to be known as the capital and labor commission. The commission shall consist of four members, four representatives and one person to be selected by the president and who shall act as chairman. It is made the duty of the commission to investigate different questions relating to the hours of labor and remuneration therefor and to submit its report to congress on the first Monday in December.

Allen of Massachusetts from the committee on Indian affairs reported a bill granting rights of way for the construction and operation of railroads across Indian territory. House calendar.

Lovering, of Massachusetts from the committee on labor, reported a bill authorizing the commissioner of labor to make an investigation as to convict labor. House calendar.

By Willis of Kentucky: To aid in the establishment and temporary support of common schools. (This is identical with the Blair bill.) Willis moved to refer the bill to the committee on labor.

Miller of Texas moved as an amendment to refer it to the committee on education. Miller's amendment was lost, yeas 115, nays 1[illegible]. Willis's motion was then agreed to, yeas 1[illegible], nays 113. So the bill was referred to the committee on labor.

THE MISSISSIPPI OUTRAGE.

O'Hara, of North Carolina, asked unanimous consent to offer for immediate consideration the following preamble and resolution.

WHEREAS, It is a matter of public information that on the 18th of March, in the town of Carrollton, Mississippi, a lawless band of persons rode to the courthouse and then and there indiscriminately murdered by shooting a number of peaceful citizens of the United States, and

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the government of said state of Mississippi has absolutely refused to take effective measures to bring to justice said murderers before the courts to answer for their crimes, and

WHEREAS, It is alleged that the grand jury in and for said county of Carroll has neglected to act in such manner as would bring said murderers before the court to answer for their crimes, and

WHEREAS, The constitution of the United States guarantees to each and every citizen full and adequate protection of his life and enjoyment of his property, therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee of five members be appointed by the speaker to investigate the facts connected with such murders and to report by bill or otherwise such measures as will check or prevent in the future the wanton and barbarous destruction of human life.

Reagan of Texas objected, on the ground that the subject was one over which congress had no power. The house then adjourned.

A DISGUSTED DEMOCRAT.

Congressman Wise, of Virginia, Attacks the President.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—At a meeting of the Virginia Democratic association last night Congressman G. D. Wise of that state made a violent attack on the president. "I am a democrat," he said, "and when I fight and win a victory I want my party to have its fruits. I don't believe that a democratic administration can be run by republicans or mugwumps. I don't think gentlemen that we have a good and pure Jacksonian administration. I am a democrat all the way up and all the way down, all the way through and all the way round, and I don't believe in this sentimental nonsense about civil service reform. I don't want a democrat to run the administration of my party who doesn't want democratic subordinates to do it for him. I have said too much now, but I believe in bold talk, for I think we have lost a good deal already by being too mealy mouthed. Now gentlemen this game has been played long enough. The time has come when the democratic banner should float on every lifted high, [illegible] democrats should be brought to the front. When you go to the departments to get a bite from the public crib they say the departments are full of republicans. These are wrongs. [illegible] the inequalities which [illegible] civil service [illegible] recognize the existence of [illegible] we have [illegible] we had."

PACIFIC COAST AFFAIRS.

A Memorial Badly Presented—The Northern Pacific Grant—Etc.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Senator Sherman presented to the senate to-day the memorial passed at the anti-Chinese convention held at Sacramento a short time ago. It was sent to the senator by George W. Peckham of Watsonville, and all communications that are addressed in that way are delivered to the president pro tempore. The memorial did not come in very good shape. It was poorly printed on cheap paper like a campaign document and did not indicate that it emanates from a great convention. It was lost in a mass of insignificant documents that are presented to congress every day. A similar memorial was presented to the house a few days ago and as is the custom was dropped in a box unannounced. A great mistake has been made in getting the memorial before congress. If it had been sent to one of the senators from the Pacific coast with a request that he present it to the senate with a statement in regard to the character of the convention that drew it, it would have attracted some attention. It might have been printed in the [illegible] had been urgently pushed. As it is it has excited no more attention among the mass of [illegible]

[illegible] Morrow bill in the senate to-day. After being read twice by its title it was referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

Harrison of Indiana will probably be appointed head of the foreign affairs committee. It is not likely that Dolph will get it.

Hermann of Oregon introduced an important resolution to-day. It directs the house committee on public lands to report back a bill forfeiting the Northern Pacific railroad land grant from Wallula to Portland. The committee has reported a bill forfeiting the entire grant from Pasco to Portland. As there is great doubt about [illegible] forfeiting that part of the grant along the line of the completed road, Hermann wants a bill forfeiting the strip where no road was built acted on at once.

Hermann also presented a petition from citizens of Southern Oregon asking that the time of the grant of the O. & C. be extended.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

[illegible]

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—The chief justice has announced the following order: Ordered that the following rule [illegible] be established, under section [illegible] of the revised statutes, rule [illegible], custody of prisoners on habeas corpus. First, pending an appeal from final decision of any court or judge declining to grant a writ of habeas corpus the custody of a prisoner shall not be disturbed. Second, pending an appeal from final decision of any court or judge discharging a writ after it has been issued, prisoner shall be remanded to the custody from which he was taken by the writ, or shall, for good cause shown, be detained in the custody of the court or judge. Third, pending an appeal from the final decision of any court or judge discharging a prisoner he shall be released upon recognizance until surety for appearance to answer the judgment of appellate court, except where for special reasons sureties ought not to be required."

HAS NOT WRITTEN TO GOULD.

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—A statement was published this afternoon to the effect that President Cleveland had been in telegraphic correspondence with Jay Gould concerning the labor troubles in the southwest, charging him not to stand in the way of arbitration. It is stated on authority that the president has had no communication with Gould or any one else concerned, in relation to the labor troubles. Some time ago much impressed with the necessity for some sort of arbitration board composed of persons whose character would give confidence to employes and employers, and whose authority would be respected, he did think of calling the attention of congress to the subject as one demanding early and considerate action, but he learned that it would be suggested by one of the house and he is doing no more than make some suggestions to Mr. O'Neill.

[illegible] YELLOWSTONE PARK HOTEL PRIVILEGES.

NEW YORK, March 29.—The World's Washington correspondent says: A strong syndicate of capitalists headed by Charles Gibson of St. Louis, has just leased from the interior department certain hotel privileges in the Yellowstone park. The lease was completed yesterday. It was made to Gibson direct. He has associated with him J. C. Pillet and Wright, officers of the Northern Pacific railroad, Carrington of Toledo, [illegible] of Minneapolis, [illegible] Billings of Vermont and John A. Perry of St. Louis. This syndicate will erect hotels at different points of interest in the park and [illegible] will begin upon them at once. The Northern Pacific with its army of [illegible] is assisting in obtaining the contract, which agrees to have these hotels all built by the 1st of July.

SECRETARY MANNING [illegible]

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—Secretary Manning had a good night, said Dr. Lincoln this afternoon, and he is really much improved, though of course not out of danger.

The improvement in Secretary Manning's condition continues. He was so much better to-day that Dr. Lincoln visited him but twice instead of five times as is his usual daily custom. The doctor said tonight that there was a favorable change. He does not yet pronounce him out of danger but says the fear of a second attack is lessening every day.

EXPORTS AND IMPORTS.

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—Total values of exports of merchandise during the twelve months ended February 28th, 1886, were $687,[illegible] and during the preceding twelve months $[illegible], a decrease of $[illegible]. Total values of imports of merchandise for the twelve months ended February 28th, 1886, were $[illegible] and for the preceding twelve months $604,480,440, an increase of $[illegible].

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Secretary Lamar is confined to his bed in consequence of a severe cold contracted yesterday. He is not expected to be out for two or three days.

Confirmation: Samuel T. Corn, associate justice of Wyoming territory.

The attorney-general is very much better to-night and will be out in a day or two. Secretary Lamar is also reported as improved.

CONGRESSIONAL NEWS NOTES.

MANNING'S BILL ADOPTED.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—The committee on ways and means to-day finally adopted the bill submitted by Secretary Manning in his letter to the speaker of January 18th in relation to protests, appeals and suits growing out of the assessment and liquidation or collection of duties on imports. The bill provides in substance that decisions of collectors of customs as to import duties shall be final unless the collector is served with notice within ten days after the decision by the parties in interest setting forth their objections to the assessment, and unless the parties shall also appeal to the secretary of the treasury within thirty days. A decision of the secretary shall be final unless suit is brought within ninety days thereafter.

THE MORROW CHINESE BILL.

WASHINGTON, March [illegible].—To-day Senator [illegible] introduced the Morrow Chinese bill in the senate with an amendment changing from twenty to ten years the period during which immigration of Chinese laborers into the United States shall be prohibited.

WILL CONTEST COMPROMISED.

SAN FRANCISCO, March [illegible].—The contest of the will of [illegible] M. Chittenden, a well known attorney, who died in this city last November, has come to an abrupt end in the manner of a compromise. On the death of Chittenden, Robert Simson his former law partner produced an alleged holographic will, by which he was bequeathed the whole of the large estate, in the fewest possible words and also made executor without bonds. Simson has now decided to file in the superior court a relinquishment of all claim to the estate, in consideration of which he is to receive $[illegible]. The remainder of the estate will go to the heirs of deceased, amounting to $[illegible].

[illegible] CONTEMPT.

A MISUNDERSTANDING

The Striking Knights Fail to Resume Work.

JAY GOULD MAKES A STATEMENT.

He Refuses to Arbitrate with the Strikers as an Order—Another Conference Held, but no Agreement Reached.

NEW YORK, March [illegible].—As the following telegram from Gould to Hoxie seems to be misunderstood by Powderly, it is worth repetition:

H. M. Hoxie, General Manager, St. Louis:—In resuming the movement of trains on the Missouri Pacific and in the employment of labor in the several departments of the company you will give preference to our late employes, whether they are members of the Knights of Labor or not, except that you will not employ any person who has injured the company's property during the late strike. Nor will we discharge any person who has taken service with the company during the late strike. We see no objection to arbitrating any difference between employes and the company at present or in the future. Hoping that the above will be satisfactory, I remain yours very truly,

JAY GOULD, President.

GOULD MAKES A STATEMENT.

In an interview this morning Gould said: "The telegram to Hoxie was prepared before my conference with Powderly yesterday and was not the result of anything Powderly said. It is exactly the stand which the Missouri Pacific has taken from the beginning, that is that the company is always ready to arbitrate any difference that it may have with its own employes. Powderly seems to have assumed from that telegram that I have agreed to the plan submitted by the executive board of the Knights of Labor, providing for the appointment of an arbitration committee, three members of which are to be appointed by myself and three by the Knights of Labor, these jointly to elect the seventh member. Now, I most emphatically deny that there was anything in my telegram to Hoxie or that there was anything said at the conference yesterday to warrant any one in believing that I for a moment assented to any such plan. I will appoint no members of any arbitration committee. The whole matter rests in the hands of Hoxie, and if he can arrange a basis for arbitration which will include both sides of the question I will make no objection. But the whole matter will have to be arranged with him. I am preparing a letter to Powderly which will clearly set forth my position as outlined above."

POWDERLY ILL.

Powderly is ill this morning. When asked why McDowell came away from the meeting with Gould so soon this morning he said:

"Oh, he only came back for some papers. What's up? He is down there now?"

It was reported this morning that the strikers in St. Louis could not go to work until they received positive official notice from Irons. Powderly was called upon this morning and found to be in bed. When asked about the strike he said:

"I have received no word that the men will not obey orders. If they have not heard from Irons it is because there has been a delay in delivering the telegram sent last night. The men will certainly go to work, and Irons will positively give them the order."

Irons has telegraphed Gould stating that the men have not resumed work this morning as they were ordered to do by Powderly.

McDowell went to the Astor house for the second time and took Messrs. Hayes and Bailey with him to Gould's office where they are now discussing the situation. Gould has delayed sending his letter to Powderly which he has prepared, as it is now thought that a personal interview between the two gentlemen can be arranged for this afternoon.

The conference between the general executive board and Jay Gould has adjourned until 10 o'clock this afternoon. No business of importance has yet been done, so Hayes says.

A REVIEW OF THE SITUATION.

NEW YORK, March [illegible].—The spirit of exultation which filled the hearts of the executive board of the Knights of Labor this morning soon changed to positive anxiety. When Wm. O. McDowell, the [illegible] at Gould's office at 10 this morning he was not as favorably impressed with his reception as he was with the reception accorded him at Gould's house Sunday. Gould gave McDowell to understand that there had been a misconception of the telegram to Hoxie which was sent Sunday night. McDowell at once returned to the Astor house and conferred with the general executive board, and two of the members at once returned with him to Gould's. The conference there was short and an adjournment was held until 3 o'clock, it being entertained that at that hour Powderly might be well enough to attend. At 3 o'clock however Messrs. Turner and McDowell entered Jay Gould's office without Powderly and at about 5 o'clock the conference ended. Subsequent inquiry at Gould's office was answered by the following statement of which Gould was the author:

Mr. Powderly has evidently misunderstood the meaning of the telegram sent Sunday night to Mr. Hoxie. Our position is that the strike has been in a condition for arbitration all the time. We have had an agreement with workmen for some time that all differences were to have been submitted for arbitration before any strike should be resorted to. Manager Hoxie has the matter in hand. He has full control, and matters must be settled with him. We are just where we were before Sunday's conference.

The gentleman who represented Jay Gould at his office said:

"The conferences of Sunday were between Gould and Powderly as citizens only, it being distinctly and often stated that neither gentleman was acting officially."

GOULD TO POWDERLY.

Mr. Gould this afternoon sent the following letter to Powderly, who makes it public, as a matter referring to an interview with Gould. The letter is marked "personal."

T. V. Powderly, Esq.: The papers this morning published the following: "Jay Gould has consented to our proposition for arbitration and so telegraphed Vice President Hoxie. Order men to resume work at once.

"T. V. POWDERLY, G. M. W."

They published an interview with you, which leads one to think that the officers of your order in St. Louis may misconstrue your message into consent on the part of this company to conform to the requirements contained in a letter from the secretary of your order, dated Philadelphia, March 27, which in my letter to you of the same date I declined to consider. You remember that at our conference Sunday I said to you that the position of this company was unchanged in this respect and the whole matter was left in the hands of the first vice president and general manager, with the instructions contained in my telegram to him which was written before my interview with you and read to you at the time. That telegram stated: "We see no objection to arbitrate any differences between the employes and the company, past or future." While I feel confident that your understanding of this matter is the same as my own, I write you this in order that there may be no grounds for misunderstanding. Very respectfully yours,

JAY GOULD, President.

POWDERLY'S REPLY.

When this was received by Powderly he wrote a reply which was taken to the conference:

"I understand you from your personal letter of this date that your company refuse arbitration and must I so telegraph Martin Irons?"

When the committee arrived at Gould's office he had gone out but they were received by Second Vice President Hopkins, who made this answer: "You may say distinctly to him no. We do not. He is not so to understand that letter, but he is simply referred to Mr. Gould's written communication to him, which he is prepared to carry out in every particular."

The committee then returned to the Astor house and Powderly formulated a reply to Gould, setting forth that the proposition for the men to return to work [illegible] an agreement to submit their complaints to arbitration was made in good faith. The letter continues: "When I made the telegraphic order to return to work I [illegible] continued in your letter to me, which I was used the following language—'we see no objection to arbitrating any differences between the employes and the company past or future' we accepted [illegible] principle of arbitration in equal good faith and at once [illegible] our order for the men to return to work. We are not particular in adjustment of the present difficulties whether the arbitrators appointed by you [illegible] shall be named by Hoxie or yours [illegible] whether their number shall consist of three, five or seven. We can imagine no greater misfortune to your company than that the impression should go forth not only to members of our organization but to the community at large whose interests are suffering, the result of the present condition of affairs that [illegible] between the interests which you represent and which I represent, by reason of [illegible]

A further conference has been arranged for 10 to-morrow morning, at which Mr. Powderly will be present if at all possible. He is quite ill.

The following telegram was sent to the district master workman at St. Louis, Sedalia and Fort Worth to-night:

"Complications have arisen since morning as to the method of arbitration. Another conference will be held to-morrow.

"T. V. POWDERLY, G. M. W."

AT ST. LOUIS.

The Strikers are Instructed to Resume Work, but the Order is Rescinded.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—The news telegraphed from New York last night that Grand Master Workman Powderly had ordered the strikers on the Gould southwest system of railroads to resume work immediately, pending arbitration, is received by Knights here with incredulity, some even going so far as to say they believed the telegrams to have been forgeries. After the first surprise occasioned by the intelligence had passed, a general satisfaction was expressed that the strike was not to be prolonged and that the men would be allowed to go back to work. The absence of Irons, chairman of the executive committee of district assembly No. 101, will delay to some extent the resumption of traffic upon the roads, for the other members of the committee say that the men of their assemblage will not go back to work until they have either met in executive session and voted upon what they term the request of Powderly that the strike be ordered off, or Irons himself shall issue such an order.

EXCEEDED HIS AUTHORITY.

Referring to Powderly's order to the Knights now on a strike in the Southwest the members of the committee say Powderly has exceeded his authority, and that such an order cannot be enforced until endorsed by their vote. This will necessitate the transaction of a large amount of routine business, for the executive committee of each district assembly must meet and vote upon the proposition. The results of these votes must be communicated to Irons, who, if a majority are in favor of returning to work, will endorse Powderly's order of last night to that effect.

Powderly's dispatch directing the strikers to return to work immediately was received at the headquarters of the executive committee at 2:30 this morning, and a member of the committee at once telegraphed to Irons at Sedalia to return to St. Louis at once. It is expected Irons will start immediately and upon arriving here will preside over a meeting of his committee which will then comply with Powderly's order to declare the strike ended.

THE JUDGE ADVOCATE'S OPINION.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—J. J. McGarry, judge advocate of the Knights of Labor, was seen this morning by a reporter and in reply to an inquiry as to how the order of Powderly would be obeyed said:

"If Irons receives it early enough he might put it either dispatch on the wires and by 10 o'clock every man could be back to work."

"Will the men go back to work on Powderly's order?"

"No sir. Not until the other matters are arbitrated upon and then no matter how this arbitration results all the men must be taken back without any discrimination being shown against any for being leaders or for any other cause."

"But will a refusal to obey Powderly's order be a violation of the laws of the Knights?"

"It will not. You see he might be mistaken. We want arbitration first, before we go to work. All our men are of the same way of thinking. I met them at Marshall to-day, and know their sentiments."

"Then you want these questions settled by your demands being granted in whole or in part before you return to work."

"Yes, sir, arbitration first and then a written agreement that all the men shall be taken back without discrimination."

He detailed the modes of arbitration proposed and said: "We shall abide by the decision of the arbitrators on the question, no matter what their decision may be."

"And what about the Hall matter?"

"That will have to go to the courts."

AN ADDRESS TO THE KNIGHTS.

The joint executive committee of district assemblies 101, 93 and 17, in session this morning, have just issued the following brief addresses:

ST. LOUIS, March 29.

Knights of Labor of the Great Southwest—Fellow Workmen: We congratulate you one and all on your manhood and fortitude during our late great fight for recognition and right. Now that the battle is fought and victory won let us wear our laurels as men of dignity and moderation. Every man to his post and to his duty, with quiet and sobriety. Let us exhibit the same zeal for the upbuilding of the business of the west that we have just done in proving that labor is king.

By order of the joint executive board of directors of assemblies No. 101, 93 and 17.

It is stated that this address was sent to the different halls where the strikers were holding meetings, that it was received joyously, and that the men started for their homes to change their clothes preparatory to going to work, but this is not verified. It is also stated that the address has been telegraphed to all points on the Southwest system.

THE YARDS QUIET.

The situation in the Missouri Pacific yards this morning is one of quietness and order. The crowd present is small, and no interference is offered to running of trains. One freight train started out soon after 10 o'clock and another followed about an hour later. Neither of them excited any particular interest. Up to noon none of the strikers had presented themselves at the shops or yards to resume work, and probably none will to-day. It is stated however on authority of the committee that workmen will be notified to return to work to-morrow and that they will be placed under instructions to that effect this afternoon. One of the committee states that he is authorized to declare that the men will be notified to return to work to-morrow.

Strikers prevented all efforts to move out trains from East St. Louis to-day and at times were quite violent. It is reported that the sheriff has called on the governor of Illinois for military aid, though this has not been confirmed.

Word has just been telegraphed down from the Missouri Pacific shops that Master Mechanic Bartlett says the men cannot return to work before Wednesday.

THE IRON MOUNTAIN.

Traffic has been practically resumed on the Iron Mountain road. Two trains left to-day, one about noon and another at 2 P. M., and three trains arrived from the south. Quite a number of men applied for work at the yards of this road to-day, and they were employed.

About 2 this afternoon three crowds of strikers left the relay depot and went to the yards of the Ohio & Mississippi and the C. B. & Q. roads, and to the National stock yards and killed an engine at each place.

The Wabash road started out a train of fifteen cars at 2:30 P. M.

The strikers have received no specific instructions as yet in regard to resuming work but say that it will be impossible for them to return before Wednesday morning.

Warrants were sworn out this morning at the instance of the attorney of the Missouri Pacific road against J. J. McGarry, judge advocate of district assembly 101, C. M. Chase and a man named Burdette, under a general charge of felony, but for the specific offense of obstructing trains and trespassing on property of the company.

THE ORDER RESCINDED.

ST. LOUIS, March 29.—At 9 o'clock to-night the executive committee rescinded the order issued this morning for the men to resume work.

LAWLESSNESS AT ATCHISON.

ATCHISON, Kan., March 29.—The strike situation here to-day was very serious. The strikers, not satisfied with simply killing engines, ditched trains, tampered with switches and soaped the track. The sheriff and a posse manned a train this morning and ran the gauntlet, barely escaping a misplaced switch, and sent it safely west. In the afternoon two trains arrived. A switch was thrown ahead of the second one and the rails smeared with soap so it was impossible to stop the train, which was ditched. The engine was then dismantled. The men were more reckless than at any time during the strike. They declare that Powderly has sold them out. Warrants are out for about 100 strikers. The sheriff has disciplined a force of deputies and thinks he can make arrests.

A REQUEST IGNORED.

SEDALIA, Mo., March 29.—Martin Irons arrived here this morning. He is perfectly non-committal and refuses to talk about the situation. He sent word to Superintendent Dobley not to run any trains until the settlement of the strike was confirmed. Of course this request was ignored, and up to 10 o'clock four freight trains have been sent out.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

SENSATION IN A CHURCH.

NEW YORK, March [illegible].—The close of the services in St. Joseph's Catholic church here last evening was interrupted by a startling incident, and a stir that barely escaped being a panic was created in the crowded building. The ceremonies had reached their most solemn and impressive point, when the assemblage was thrilled with the horrible spectacle of a man pitching headlong from the gallery to the body of the church. The man fell within the rail of the sanctuary and knocked down a statue of St. Joseph. The image broke and the crash added to the fright. Several women fainted, and an ominous rustle of a preparation to rush to the street followed. The priests quieted the congregation before a panic ensued and the man, who is seriously injured, was taken to the hospital.

False Bangs for the Dudes

New York Sun.

"We are selling a good many false bangs," said a hairdresser.

"For ladies?" inquired the reporter.

"No, for young men. Bangs are all the rage now, and every young fellow must have one. Many of them are bald or their hair is too thin on the forehead, so they call on us to help them. We make a bang that cannot be distinguished from the genuine article. It is fastened on with wires, and when neatly combed looks very nice. A bang should come about half an inch short of the eyebrows, and should be evenly cut. It should never be worn with a full beard, as it contracts the face too much. It is most effective with a drooping moustache."

Desperate Conflicts between Troops and Rioters.

MANY MEN KILLED AND WOUNDED.

Political Notes from London—A Denial from Parnell—Greece Still Spoiling for a Fight—Foreign Notes

CHARLEROI, March 29.—This city to-day is a vast military camp, from which flying columns are operating in all directions. It is believed that the worst is over. The government has authorized peaceable inhabitants of the city to arm themselves and to use every means in their power to defend their domiciles. There is a more confident feeling as civilian patrols and troops are overmastering the rioters.

Miners in the Fleurus and Boringe districts have gone out on a strike and have destroyed the residences of the mine managers with dynamite. In these districts there have already been several conflicts between strikers and troops and many have been killed on both sides. Reinforcements have been sent to the scenes from Mons.

THREE RIOTERS KILLED.

BRUSSELS, March 29.—Rioters last night attacked and burned a manufactory at Bouderer, near Mons. They succeeded in resisting the gendarms, who however, shot and killed three of the rioters.

Citizens of Fleurus, seven miles northeast of Charleroi, have armed themselves with pitchforks, clubs and guns, and have thus far succeeded in defending their town from pillage. They drove an army of rioters away by main force, dispersing it utterly. Vigilance committees are being formed by citizens in other places threatened by strikers.

DUE TO POLITICAL CAUSES.

BRUSSELS, March 29.—It has been proved that the riots were due to political causes. Of ninety persons arrested here in connection with the disturbance one half are old convicts of the worst kind.

The entire reserve force has been called out. With these additional troops the army will number 62,000.

In a fresh fight between rioters and infantry at Carnieres, two persons were killed and many wounded.

Workmen in the cloth factories at Verviers have joined the strike.

SEVENTEEN KILLED AND WOUNDED.

CHARLEROI, March 29.—Strikers stopped work at the Belsiax collieries to-day. They were thrice ordered to disperse but refused to do so, and began to throw stones at the troops. The latter fired upon the rioters, killing and wounding seventeen.

FIRED UPON BY TROOPS.

MONS, March 29.—Three hundred strikers made an attack on the Mariemont colliery to-day, and were fired upon by troops. The number killed and wounded is fourteen.

ENGLAND.

POLITICAL NOTES FROM LONDON.

LONDON, March 29.—There was a session of the cabinet this afternoon.

Gladstone and Lord Hartington, who was secretary for war in the last liberal cabinet, interchanged communications to-day regarding the latter's attitude toward the premier's proposed Irish policy. Hartington, though a whig, is a sincere admirer of Gladstone, and has always refused to either follow or lead any opposition to him.

Chamberlain's personal followers are urging him to make use of the National Liberal federation to discover the majority feeling of the liberal party throughout Great Britain toward Gladstone's Irish policy.

At Birmingham rumors are circulated that if the present political crisis results in a new election Lord Randolph Churchill and Chamberlain will take the stump on the same platform. It is also stated that in the same event the Birmingham liberals in John Bright's district will request that venerable statesman to retire in favor of a younger man.

A DENIAL FROM PARNELL.

LONDON, March 29.—Parnell authorizes a flat denial of the Daily Telegraph's statement that he has been informed of the progress of Irish matters in the cabinet, and that he opposed giving precedence to the land purchase bill, or any measure that would delay discussion of the question of home rule. He says his attitude on the question of land purchase is unaltered, and that he is absolutely ignorant of Gladstone's plans.

A PROTEST FROM AUSTRALIA.

LONDON, March 29.—Australia opposes allowing France to annex the New Hebrides, under any conditions. The colony of Victoria has instructed its London agent to protest in the strongest possible way against the proposed annexation.

GREECE.

IN FAVOR OF WAR.

LONDON, March 30.—The Times's Vienna correspondent says: News from Athens indicate that the present warlike Greek chamber will almost certainly vote in favor of war, the members fearing to run the risk of unpopularity. The Greek cabinet council has decided to make preparations for it.

FRANCE.

THE PARIS BOURSE.

LONDON, March 29, 5:30 P. M.—Paris advices quote 3 per cent. rentes at 80 francs 2 centimes for account. The market is flat owing to the attitude of Greece respecting the eastern question and the nature of the recent speech of Bismarck in the reichstag in reference to socialism in Europe.

PORTLAND, TUESDAY MAR. 30, 1886.

A NEW RAILWAY COMPANY.

The attempt to organize a company to build a railroad from Coos bay, passing through Roseburg and connecting with the Union Pacific at Huntington, has been successful, and articles of incorporation, containing the names of twenty-seven substantial citizens of Coos, and fourteen of Douglas county, have been filed. The name chosen by the corporation is the "Oregon Central Railway company." As outlined by the Plaindealer, the present purpose of the company is "to make a survey from Roseburg to some point in the neighborhood of Huntington, the present terminus of the Union Pacific, a distance of about 300 miles, the line from Coos bay to Roseburg having been already surveyed. As soon as the survey has been completed it is the intention of the company to adopt suitable means, and use every effort to induce Eastern capitalists to furnish sufficient money to build the road."

THE OREGONIAN hopes that these efforts may prove successful. The construction of a transcontinental railway to a point upon the southern Oregon coast would be a matter which not only the southern portion but the entire state might well congratulate itself upon. The fact should not, however, in the bright anticipations that attend railroad building upon paper, be lost to sight that the capitalists who are to be invited to build this railroad will, if they invest their money, invest it for profit, and not with a special desire to benefit individuals who may pay tribute to its business. Much of the complaint against transportation lines rises from a misunderstanding of the motive which induces capitalists to invest their money in the carrying trade. Every business enterprise in the country that is conducted with sufficient energy to insure success is pushed with the purpose of gain.

The resources of Coos and Douglas counties are vast. The area lying between Huntington and the Cascade mountains is doubtless capable of producing an enormous amount of grain. Coal awaits mining and transportation in Coos county, and timber belts, as fine as any in the world, await the advent of a railroad to bear away their products. No one doubts these things. No one doubts that, if capital could be made to see that it was to its advantage to do so, it would push steel rails and locomotives into that section with all possible speed. But it so often happens that a section, most clamorous for a railroad, fights it bitterly when it presents its freight bills, that fields for railroad enterprises are not as inviting as enthusiasts desire.

It is a good sign to see people awake to the possibilities that surround them. The lethargy that dreams away the years and slights opportunities has possessed Oregon long enough, and it is a favorable sign to see it shaken off long enough even to organize a company to survey a feasible railroad route and gather confidence sufficient to ask capitalists to build it.

SETTLEMENT BY ARBITRATION.

Arbitration of differences is a sensible method. It may not always settle disputes, but it opens a door to accommodation. It is a method that should always be encouraged in controversies between working people and employers; for it will bring them to conference, and then they will often find that their differences have consisted largely in injuries more or less imaginary. Men always stand apart more resolutely and with more bitter defiance on points of pride and fictitious or side issues than on real grounds of difference; and if they can jump over the imaginary points of contention so as to get together and talk, the settlement of the real questions involved is usually quite easy. Arbitrators, too, will put aside that punctiliousness in principals which grows out of haughtiness on one side or a sense of imaginary wrongs on the other, and come right to the main business. While, therefore, it is not to be supposed that arbitration can be successful in every case, it will certainly be successful in many, and will offer hope of success in all; so that even if it fails, the result will be a more clear understanding by the parties interested, and by the general public of the nature and ground of the dispute.

Some, to whom the idea of arbitration appears to be new, are so taken with the novelty and so impressed with its excellence, as to be led to the suggestion that it shall be made compulsory; and a law will probably be enacted by congress to that end,—to apply to disputes between interstate common carriers and their employes. It is difficult to see how such law can be made efficient and useful. The very term "compulsory arbitration" is contradictory,—about as much so as compulsory volunteering for military service. Business interests may always be depended on to go further in their own behalf than any law will lead or drive them. Probably no harm will come of a "compulsory arbitration" law, but we should not expect much good from it. Men will voluntarily do for the interests of their business more than the law can force them to do.

In the matter of the Missouri Pacific strikes, both sides to the controversy will probably be willing to adopt a suggestion that will cause it to be dropped. Both say they are willing to arbitrate; and this probably will be the last of it, since there will be little or nothing to arbitrate, and the business of the road will be resumed and go on as usual. The strike was a forced one, and without sufficient excuse; and the men, having secured from the company a recognition of the existence of their order, will call it a victory and want nothing more. It's simply another case of "If you said so, then I said so; and they shook hands and swore brothers." The word "arbitration" is pronounced, and all is settled. The fact of arbitration in this case will probably be nothing at all.

ONLY THE USUAL THING.

THE OREGONIAN, in the course of its long history, has been accustomed to sneers, jibes and nicknames from those persons who are actuated by the meanest and basest of instincts, race hatred. Because it contended for the rights of the African in America, it was for many years called "the nigger organ," just as it is now called "the coolie organ" by the same or a similar class of ruffians, because it contends for the rights of the Asiatics in America. Yet what has become of the great "nigger question?" It existed mainly in the imaginations and prejudices of ignorance and folly, and hence has disappeared. So with the great "coolie question." It is not at bottom of the discontent or of the "hard times" existing here, since in other parts of the country, where a Chinaman is never seen, there is still more discontent, and still severer industrial depression. It is a catch merely of demagogy, playing upon ignorance and passion by direct or indirect appeals to race hatred. It has all the characteristic features of the old fury against the "nigger," and will wear out as that fury did, as men learn what fools they are making of themselves, or what fools they are allowing predatory vagabonds and agitators, who pose as martyrs to the tyranny of capital, to make of them. Meantime THE OREGONIAN expects the attacks of ignorance, malignity and folly. It has expected such things throughout its whole career of thirty-five years, and never has been disappointed.

There is perhaps nothing more wonderful in the history of animals than the rapid extinction of the buffalo of the great plains of middle North America. Gregarious in their habits, of enormous bulk, furnishing excellent food and dull of perception, these animals offered a powerful incentive and became an easy prey to hunters. Vast herds, numbering in aggregate many thousands of animals, were literally annihilated during the few years between 1872 and 1883. Some idea of this slaughter may be gathered from the testimony of a ranchman, who stated that in riding through the lands bordering the Little Missouri, he had not been for days out of sight of dead buffalo, (the skeletons of herds destroyed several years ago) nor in sight of a live one.

RAILROAD MANAGEMENT.

We had occasion a few days back to commend the management of the Union Pacific railroad company as one which devotes itself strictly to the business of carrying freight and passengers, in which there are no inside or outside schemes or "wheels within wheels," which does not attempt to build up or tear down towns, which pursues its own interest through prompt attention to its legitimate business and by giving the best practicable service for the least practicable cost. It is needless to say that this has not always been the policy of that company. Under the old management the Union Pacific, while enjoying a large business and a practical monopoly, ran down to the verge of bankruptcy. The improvement in its status and prospects under the present system is a striking demonstration of the superiority of legitimate and liberal management over autocratic and greedy management, a practical lesson in the science of "railroading" which ought not to be lost upon the railroad men of the country.

Railroad management has come to be a science indeed, and a highly practical science, and the career of the Union Pacific furnishes a very interesting and important illustration of many of its phases. The relations of this corporation with the government have made public its affairs, bad as well as good, and supplied a mass of information and record which cannot be too much studied. A volume containing copies of each report made by the government directors from 1864 to the present time has just issued from the interior department, and in it we find a perfect illustration of the principles long maintained by practical economists, but which railroad men have been slow to recognize. In a report submitted in 1884 the government directors call attention to the bitterly hostile feeling felt toward the road in the communities generally through which it passes and by many of its patrons. "The traffic department," they say, "for years and until very lately has been conducted upon the theory that the Union Pacific would be always able to maintain its monopoly, and upon the principle that corporate extortion is a performance in which a railway management may indefinitely indulge with impunity. It was a great and unfortunate error for the Union Pacific. A sentiment was manufactured which embraced the first and earliest opportunity to divert patronage to any competitor. Now that competitors have entered the field, the fruits of this disastrous policy appear on every hand. The road is compelled to bear the burden of aggregated ill will. The public has become imbued with the settled conviction that the railway corporation is inimical to it, a natural result from the system and methods to which we refer." Noting the change in management and the new efforts to disabuse the public mind, the report continues: "But the public is and will be slow to be tutored, especially to appreciate this change of policy." And further on: "It is the constant fear of adverse legislation on the one hand and the determination on the part of the other to have remedial legislation, that tends to render railway securities of uncertain value, the operation of roads of uncertain success, and of greatly increased difficulty to their managements."

There are volumes of wisdom in these brief statements. They show the folly of extortion and the difficulty of getting into public favor when once confidence has been withdrawn. Those who manage our railroads will do well to bear this lesson in mind, for the surest way to make a railroad serve its own interests is to make it serve the interests of its patrons.

NORTH PACIFIC COAST FISHERIES.

The illimitable possibilities of the North Pacific coast for the commercial fishermen, is the subject of an article in a late number of the Montreal Gazette. The writer, who bases his article upon personal observations made during a trip to Alaska, says:

> Some of the Nova Scotia fishermen have been turning their eyes to the Pacific coast of the dominion in search of a field for the more profitable pursuit of their calling. In reply to inquiries made of the local government officials most flattering accounts have been received of the yet almost unavailed-of wealth with which the waters of British Columbia teem. The inlets of the coast abound with salmon, cod of several species, anchovy, sardines, dog-fish, sturgeon that sometimes weigh 1000 pounds, herring, whiting, trout, oysters, clams and halibut. Whales are plentiful off the coast, and on the islands that fringe it fur seals are found. The laws of the province are very liberal to those engaged in the fisheries, according all persons the right to use any vacant public property for the purpose of landing and curing fish. The government promises to give every assistance to emigrants from the East, and it is not improbable that a number of lower province fishermen may avail themselves of the inducements held forth.

From this it is evident that the Canadian tourist uses his eyes, not only for his own pleasure, but for the possible profit of his government. The opportunities presented in the waters of what is termed the "magic northland" for the commercial fisherman are not likely to be long ignored by our wideawake neighbors. If Canadian enterprise forestalls American enterprise in the prosecution of the fishing industry in North Pacific waters, it will not be more the result of the sagacity of the former than the dilatory policy of the latter.

Mr. Charles Hallock, an enthusiast upon this subject, recommends the transfer of the New England fishing interests bodily from the Atlantic to the Pacific, where, he asserts, "devastating storms and periodical dearth of fish do not make the business too hazardous to undertake." The picture he draws is one of comparatively congenial climate, and fish swarming in every estuary and congregating on every outlying bank. He points out, as encouragement in the development of this boundless industry, the fact that everything required for this stupendous industry grows spontaneously in Alaska. Among these are unrivaled bait without cost, materials for building and cooperage, ice for packing, salt for curing and twine for nets and seines, which is supplied by the gigantic kelp, a hundred feet in length, whose fiber is too tough to break.

As a field profitable for the pursuit of the commercial fisherman the North Pacific coast is certainly attractive. Like the resources of the lands that form the shores of the Pacific ocean in this quarter of the globe, remote from civilization's centers, the resources of its waters have as yet been lightly drawn upon, and are but dimly comprehended. Canneries and oil factories and packing stations of enormous capacity could readily be supplied from these waters with less hazard than attends the fishing fleets off the Cape Ann shore or the grand banks of Newfoundland. The bodily transportation of a great and long-established industry, with its human agencies and commercial interests, from the Atlantic to the Pacific, is, perhaps, a visionary scheme, but the springing up of its counterpart in the North Pacific—with superior advantages, pointing to greater prosperity—will be witnessed in due time. It remains to be seen whether Canadian or American enterprise will be first to possess the field.

Major W. A. Jones, United States engineer, who has just returned from Washington, informs us that there is a prospect of securing an increase in two or three Oregon items in the river and harbor appropriation bill. When the bill comes up for consideration Mr. Hermann will move an increase, and he believes that he will be able to carry the point. Major Jones thinks that there will be a special appropriation for surveying the Columbia river above the mouth of the Snake. An urgent appeal has been made for an amount sufficient to accomplish this work, and the matter is in favorable shape.

A large number of the residents of Whitman county, in Eastern Washington, and of Nez Perce county, in Northern Idaho, have petitioned congress to settle the Cœur d'Alene Indians, who occupy a large reservation situated in these counties, in severalty and to open the main tract for settlement. The only timber in the whole district is on the reservation, and the Indians demand an unreasonable tribute for fuel, fence timber, etc., which the settlers near at hand have to pay. It is declared, too, that a heavy toll is exacted for passing over the reservation, as settlers are compelled to do in their intercourse with each other and to reach market. It is further charged that the Indians are influenced to make their exactions by the Catholic mission, by whom the receipts are engrossed. The Cœur d'Alenè Indians are quite as well prepared for civilization as they will ever be under the reservation system, and it would be better for all parties in interest if they were established in severalty and the great body of land for which they can have no legitimate use opened for settlement by whites.

AN EXAMPLE FROM FRANCE.

In the interest of bimetallism, if for no other reason, we ought to suspend for the present the coinage of the silver dollar. All the leading bimetallists recommend this. If we keep on our metallic money will be nothing but silver, for the poorer silver will displace the better gold. Should we put our business upon a silver basis we would thereby help England to maintain the purely gold standard for her business. Hence, in fact, by continuing to coin silver we are pursuing the very course that will discredit silver.

Suspension of coinage of silver for the present would not mean demonetization of silver. Few or none of the opponents of continued coinage desire or expect demonetization, and the assertions to the contrary are calculated to raise a misleading issue. The silver already coined will not be demonetized, in any event. Coinage of silver may be totally suspended and yet that variety of money continue to circulate in company with gold and the best kind of paper. France suspended the coinage of silver in 1873, yet silver is not only used there, but recent investigation proves that it fully holds its own as a circulating medium, although its ratio to gold is less than in the United States.

On the 28th of May last a count was made of the money received at the various government offices of France for one week. The total of money counted was $10,500,000. This was made up of $7,000,000 bank of France notes and $3,500,000 coin. Of the coin 70 per cent., or $2,450,000, was gold, and 30 per cent., or $1,050,000 silver. A similar count made in 1878 showed that of $4,500,000 of coin examined, 75½ per cent. was gold and 24½ per cent. silver. Thus it appears that silver has fully held its own relatively to gold, and that there has been no hoarding of gold or discrediting or disuse of silver in France; and the same would be true under like conditions in the United States.

All agree that coinage of silver cannot be continued indefinitely on the present basis. The main question is, how far can it be carried without causing the country to lose its gold? A secondary question is, of what use is it to carry the coinage further at the present time?

It is said that there are twenty thousand eastern tourists in California, attracted by the double inducement—"glorious climate" and cheap transcontinental rates. Already a few are slopping over into Oregon, but the ocean trip is full of terrors to the greater number, who will return as they came, by the southern roads. We shall get only a small share of summer travel till the Oregon & California railroad is complete.

It does seem that the supreme court is unnecessarily slow with the case involving the status of the registration law. Here is a case in which every voter in the state is interested. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week are the days fixed for registration, and it is of the highest importance that it should be decided in time for general information before next Monday if the law is or is not effective.

Said handsome Tom to smiling Nell,
"Where did you find that mystic spell
That hovers 'round your every smile,
And would my throbbing heart beguile?"
Quoth laughing Nell, "You silly boy,
In SOZODONT—the cream of joy."

TO THE PUBLIC—I, THE UNDERSIGNED, have this day sold my entire right, title, and interest in the Rubber Stamp, Stencil, Seal and Calcium Light business located at 82 First st., Portland, Or., to Mr. J. C. Hollister, of the firm of Hollister & Merrill. The new firm has employed a first class seal and stencil cutter and will continue to do first class work at the shortest possible notice. Thanking my friends and the public for their liberal patronage during the past three years and trusting they will continue the same with the new firm, I remain, very respectfully,
Portland, Or., March 27, 1886. F. T. MERRILL.

TO THE PUBLIC—I HAVE THIS DAY BOUGHT the entire right, title and interest of F. T. Merrill in the Stencil, Rubber Stamp, Seal and Calcium Light business of the firm of Hollister & Merrill, located at 82 First st. Mr. Merrill retaining the stock of Bicycles and the Bicycle business. Having secured a competent workman, and thanking our many friends and the public for past favors, and hoping for a continuance of the same, I am, respectfully, J. C. HOLLISTER.

P. S.—My three years' partnership with the above gentleman has been such that I take pleasure in recommending him to the public as a shrewd and honest business man. Portland, Or., March 27, 1886.

License to wed was issued yesterday to John Rake and Sophia Backman and F H Barnard and Kittie S. Brack.

The annual meeting of the Oregon Humane society is this (Tuesday) evening at 7:30 in the parlor of the Unitarian church.

The Ladies' Aid society of the First Congregational church have a meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon at the church parlors.

As will be seen by advertisement, the loan exhibition at the Unitarian church lecture room is continued this afternoon and evening and closes tonight.

Mah Jim, convicted of murder in the second degree, will be sentenced by Judge Stearns Wednesday. Penitentiary for life is the only penalty provided for a case of this kind.

The sheriff's office was crowded all day yesterday with people who were engaged in paying their taxes. For hours the only sounds that could be heard were lot —, block — dollars — and — cents; here's your receipt, etc.

Squire Jesse Bullock died at Oswego at the age of [illegible] years. The immediate cause of his death is supposed to be cancer. Deceased was the father-in-law of George W. Prosser and was an old resident. The funeral takes place to-day.

Deputy U S Marshal Moomaw arrived here yesterday, having in charge Julius Fuches. Mr. Fuches is a victim of his own lachesness in failing to provide himself with the necessary revenue license allowing him to sell malt liquors.

It is understood that the present choir of Trinity church is to be dispensed with after the first of the month. This is to be regretted, as it cannot be improved upon and the beauty of the service will be greatly impaired by a change in this direction.

L. Russell & Co have sold their coal business to George H. Clark, formerly manager for [illegible] & Son. Mr Russell will leave next month for his old home in Scotland to remain. During a residence of five years in this city Mr Russell has made many friends who will regret to have him leave.

A. Fenkhausen, a pioneer resident and wholesale liquor merchant of San Francisco, died there on Saturday last. He had been confined to his bed by paralysis for several years. Mr Fenkhausen was well known in Oregon, having traveled extensively through this state in the interest of his house.

The county democracy had a meeting last evening and rearranged their organization to meet the new order of things in regard to changes in the number of precincts, etc. The precinct clubs were instructed to elect delegates to the organization, and the president, Sidney Dell, made his farewell speech. The clubs are to hold meetings on Friday night.

Chief of Police Parrish last evening received a dispatch from the mayor of Tacoma stating that there were four boys from Portland over there, Charles Edwards, son of Ackley Edwards, [illegible] Willis and George and Willie [illegible]. The police here have heard nothing of any missing boys, and there is no Ackley Edwards in the city directory. Who has lost any boys?

PERSONAL.

Hon. D P Thompson is due to-day from the East.

Mr. John Muir, traffic manager of the O. R. & N., returned yesterday from the East.

Collector H F Beecher and family and [illegible] Townsend will return to-day over the Northern Pacific.

C W Townsend, mechanical engineer and draughtsman, formerly with the O. R. & N. Co., has succeeded to the superintendency of the iron ship yard, Newburgh, New York.

A Bed Ridden Dyspeptic Cured

C F Haight, of Westfield, Chautauqua county, N.Y., writes May 7, 1885: "Six years ago I was a martyr of dyspepsia. My stomach and digestive organs were in a horrible state. I feared consumption of the bowels, which were dreadfully constipated. I was bed ridden for many months. Finally bought six boxes Brandreth's Pills. When I had finished taking them I was a well man. I took them the first night, ran down to one Pill, then two alternately."

CUT RATES

All cut rate tickets to the East, either via the Northern Pacific or Union Pacific, and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul railways, can only be procured of A. L. Maxwell, Agent O. R. & N. Ry., Ash St. Wharf, Portland, Or.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

REOPENING OF THIRD STREET.—Next Friday evening the property owners on Third street, from Washington to G, will hold a meeting at the Merchant hotel for the purpose of considering what action to take relative to reopening North Third street across the edge of Couch lake. Those who have not received notification are hereby requested to be on hand at 7 o'clock on the evening mentioned. The status of the proposed action is as follows: Some time since the council appointed viewers on the matter of the proposed reopening, but the report showed such heavy damages that new viewers were appointed. They made the damages exceed the benefits about $8000, which is considered reasonable. It is argued that as the city donated away the street, the city as a whole should pay for restoring it. But the city has no money to pay so large a bill. However, the councilmen have expressed a willingness to let the city bear a portion of the expense, provided the property owners will stand the balance. There is a disposition among the property owners to accept the situation, because they want the street opened. It is likely that a plan of action will be agreed upon at the Friday night meeting.

PLOTTERS INDICTED.—The U. S. grand jury yesterday returned an indictment against the following named persons who were indicted under section [illegible] of revised statutes of the United States: William Myers, Lewis Hamilton, George Brown, John Polish, Allen White, Lyon Miller, W. W. Stafford, Nat. J. Baker, William McLaughlin and Hiram Straight. Section 5336 refers to seditious conspiracy, and reads as follows: "If two or more persons in any state or territory conspire to overthrow, put down, or to destroy by force the government of the United States, or to levy war against them, or to oppose by force the authority thereof, or by force to prevent, hinder or delay the execution of any law of the United States, or by force to seize, take or possess any property of the United States contrary to the authority thereof, each of them shall be punished by a fine of not less than $500 and not more than $5000, or by imprisonment with or without hard labor for a period not less than six months nor more than six years, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

PLANS FOR A FOUNTAIN.—A gentleman of this city who has an eye for the beautiful, and some public spirit, seeing that the city council has as yet done nothing toward construction of the Skidmore fountain, has on his own account undertaken to obtain plans. He wrote to the Metropolitan Drinking Fountain and Cattle Trough association, of London, asking for designs. This society furnishes free of cost plans for public fountains, and has designed hundreds in the city of London and throughout England. Mr. M. W. Smith, secretary of the association, gave the letter prompt attention, and yesterday the gentleman received an answer, enclosing a blank application calling for general information relative to location, amount to be expended, whether the fountain is to be in a park or at the side of a building, etc. The answers will be mailed to Mr. Smith to-day, and when the designs arrive they will be placed in Mayor Gates's hands.

TO JAIL FOR WIFE BEATING.—Last Saturday night Patrick Connolly, a resident of D street, got drunk and then went home and beat his wife. As this sort of thing had become too common, Mrs. Connolly yesterday repaired to Justice Davis and swore out a warrant for her husband's arrest for assault and battery. She complained that every now and then he would imbibe over freely and then abuse her. Saturday night he struck her in the mouth and tore her clothes. When arrested Connolly pleaded guilty, and in default of the payment of a fine of $25, was sent to the county jail for twelve days. When asked the cause of the trouble he said he did not know. "It must be some sort of a notion his wife took." While on the way to the county hotel with Constable Higley, Connolly remarked: "I don't remember anything about it, but if Mrs. Connolly says so, it must be so."

UNQUENCHABLE THIRST.—There appears to be no end to the number of fellows at and about Pendleton who are willing to sell liquor to Indians, and judging from the number of them constantly being brought down here it is to be inferred that the Indians of the Umatilla reservation are afflicted with an unquenchable thirst for the fire water of the pale face, and that Agent Coffey allows too many of his subjects to be led into temptation and the society of cultus white men. Deputy U. S. Marshal Morse yesterday brought down from Pendleton George Gilman and John Van Rimple, who had been held to answer by U. S. Commissioner Fred Page Tustin for selling liquor to Indians. They were placed in the county jail. Agent Coffey or the people of Pendleton or the United States authorities should devise some means of putting a stop to this nuisance.

FIRST SUMMER DAY.—Yesterday was the warmest day of the season, the mercury touching [illegible] degrees. Vegetation appeared to leap forward and the sap seemed to be bursting the buds and forcing the blossoms to open. Honey bees were out in full force for the first time, and a big bumble bee was seen tumbling around a blooming blossom. On a cherry tree at R. F. Knapp's old place a number of blossoms were fully opened. After a few days of such weather as yesterday the ground will be in condition for working, and gardening may be commenced without fear of the ground being left in clods and lumps. Sweet peas should be planted at once. The main business streets are already dusty, and pedestrians, particularly ladies who were out in large numbers yesterday, suffered some annoyance. Street sprinklers may as well be put on at once.

REOPENING OF THE MERCHANT.—Last night the Merchant hotel, under the new management, was the scene of a formal opening and "house warming" party. The house has been refitted throughout and presents a very pleasing appearance. The large billiard room has been thoroughly renovated, and a new lot of bar fixtures make a most attractive display. In the large and novel feature of the Merchant, the social hall, a large party of guests danced till a late hour. A magnificent collation was served during the evening, and Mr. F. Nicolai proved himself a most genial boniface. The hotel received its rehabilitation under most favorable auspices.

NEW LODGE.—Willamette lodge, I. O. G. T., was organized at Oregon City by Prof. Wm. Crowhurst Sunday night at the close of a union temperance meeting in the Congregational church, with forty-seven charter members. The officers are: Rev. S. J. Davis, lodge deputy; W. W. Mars, W. C. T.; Mrs. C. H. Caufield, W. R. H. S.; Mrs. S. J. Davis, W. L. H. S.; Miss M. H. Blankenship, W. V. T.; C. H. Caufield, W. S.; Miss F. W. Bitzer, W. A. S.; J. J. Randall, W. F. S.; G. H. Bestow, W. T.; T. A. Goodle, W. C.; C. W. Porter, W. M.; Miss Ida B. Baker, W. D. M.; F. C. Hickman, W. I. G.; W. F. Hurt, W. O. G.; Rev. S. P. Davis, P. W. C. T.

THE INSPECTED.—Yesterday James Lotan, inspector of boilers, and Inspector of Hulls J. F. Ferguson made an examination of the little steam tug Michigan. They found everything in a number one condition and issued a first class certificate. The Michigan is about thirty tons burden and is virtually a new boat, for although built two years ago she has seen but little service. Recently she was purchased by Mr. Wilson of Astoria and will be used this season in connection with the fishing business on the lower Columbia, principally between Astoria and Cape Hancock.

INJURED BY A STAGE UPSETTING.—Mr. Stuart Macdonald, traveler for the firm of Wilson, Wright & Co., of this city, met with quite a serious accident on the [illegible] instant by the upsetting of Ladd's stage between Arlington and Fossil, Wasco county. He has been confined to his bed ever since from the effects of his injuries, and his doctors say he will not be able to get out for another week. As the stage company objected till from Mr. Macdonald the day after the accident, he intends to hold them responsible for all the damages and expenses he may suffer.

THE WOOL CLIP.—The ring of the clip of the sheep shears will soon be heard in all the ranges of Eastern Oregon. The work of shearing was commenced yesterday at a band of sheep near Arlington. Several bands were shorn a short time since, but only such as were sold to go East or had been picked to be among them. The work will begin in earnest in a few days, and many a sheep will yield up with a regret the warm woolen ulster it has worn all winter. The clip will be of an average quantity and yield, it is thought, [illegible].

CLUB TO DISBAND.—It is understood that the members of the Acme club are seriously contemplating matrimony, and to this end have decided to disband. Their furniture, pictures and other club effects, together with the next club room, upon whom there will be no reserve, will be offered in choice lots at auction this afternoon at 2 P. M. Parties desiring nice, solid goods will do well to keep this sale in mind, and the neighbors are respectfully invited to come and bid joyfully.

BICYCLE CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.—Under "New To-Day" will be found the programme of the Bicycle club tournament and exhibition. It is for the express purpose of raising funds to build a bicycle track. Tickets are only 50 cents each, and the demon drill alone is worth more than the price of admission. Those interested in out door sports and feeling inclined to foster them can do worse than buy tickets for the entertainment.

RECOVERING.—Gim Koy, the Chinese woman who was so badly cut last week at her residence on Oak street, between First and Second, is pronounced by the attending physician out of danger and on the fair way to recovery. Sim Hock, the celestial accused of doing the bloody work, was yesterday held by Judge Dement in $1000 bonds to answer to a charge of assault with intent to kill.

BILLIARDS.—Last night Peter Wilhelm played a return match, balk line billiards, with W. S. Sterling of New York, at the "Boss," 150 points. The New Yorker, who is a remarkably fine player, was victorious by ten points. His largest run was [illegible], Wilhelm's [illegible].

THE STAGE.

THE CASINO.—Another splendid house greeted the Thompson company in the "Merry War" last evening. The performance improves at each representation, and for the present week MacCollin has put on a new march with quite a different lot of figures from that of last week. Miss Godfrey last night sang better than she has yet done here, and the whole performance is as near perfection as possible. An eastern company [illegible] last night remarked of the present production that it rivaled, if it did not excel, that of the McCaull company at the New York Casino. But a few more of this remain of this really magnificent presentation, and the capacity of the Casino will be tested to its utmost at the close of the week. Owing to unavoidable delays in the transmission of the scenes of Estrella, the management have determined to put on "The Pirates of Penzance" on Monday for a few evenings, until Estrella shall have been sufficiently rehearsed. The company will play in Astoria on the evenings of Thursday and Friday of next week, giving "The Merry War" and "Billee Taylor."

MANAGER THOMPSON'S BENEFIT.—The sale of reserved seats will begin at 10 o'clock this morning at McKercher & Thompson's, first come, first served. Miss Wallace and Mr. W. T. Wall will not appear in "The Mikado," as announced in a Sunday morning paper. The sketch "Ten Minutes with the Swedish consul" by Mr. Carson is not, as some have been led to believe, a take off on the Swedish consul in this city, but a clever imitation of a noted character who rather likes to be guyed.

THE COURTS.

The grand jury were in session yesterday. Among the cases before them were those of a lot of Chinamen held for opium smoking under the new state law, and Harry Irving, who took a shot at Constable Fettenthaler.

No business was transacted in state circuit court department No. 1 yesterday. This department will adjourn for the term about the end of the present week.

Yesterday in the state circuit court A. J. Day brought suit against Reed & Boatman, milliners on Sixth street, between Morrison and Alder, to recover $[illegible] for goods sold and delivered.

Wm. A. Daly yesterday brought suit against the county of Multnomah to recover a fee of $[illegible] mileage for appearing before the grand jury as a witness in behalf of the state February 2 last in the Hill her forgery case. This is another effort to test the witness fee law.

John Aspinwall, of Tarrytown, New York, has instituted suit in the state circuit court against Charles H. Graham and wife to recover $3700 on a promissory note executed by plaintiffs to defendant at Tarrytown November 1st, 1882, payable in five years, and secured by a mortgage on the west half of lots 1 and 2, block 10, East Portland, also lots 1 and 4, block 10, Tibbetts addition to East Portland. Plaintiff alleges that default has been made by defendants in the payment of interest on the note, and the terms and conditions of the mortgage have therefore been broken. Wherefore plaintiff prays that it be foreclosed, and that beside the principal named in the note he recover interest, costs of the action and attorney's fees.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT.

In the case of Balfour, Guthrie & Co. against Watson a final decree was made and order issued for sale of property.

In the case of Main & Winchester against H. B. Glover a judgment of non suit was entered, and the suit in the case of Main & Winchester vs. McWhirter & Glover [illegible].

The United States grand jury yesterday presented four indictments, three of which were endorsed "a true bill." The indictment against Frank Davis, Joe Bergman, R. L. Spencer and John Vaffi was found "not a true bill."

STATE CIRCUIT COURT, NO. 2.

A. D. Brundage vs. the Monumental Silver mining company et al. Hearing of demurrer to complaint, demurrer to the answer and separate demurrer to complaint continued until April 6.

In the case of Lewis Love and others who refused to pay the city assessment for a street improvement a demurrer was argued yesterday morning. The city attorney claims that since Love and his associates sat calmly by until the work was completed before making a protest, this is an estoppel and they must pay their assessment. The matter was taken under advisement by Judge Stearns.

The case of Margaret Holland vs. Ellen Day has been referred to O. F. Paxton as referee to take testimony and report findings.

Jefferson street ferry company vs. City of East Portland; motion to dissolve injunction and demurrer to complaint argued and submitted.

C. A. Plummer vs. H. E. Plummer; motion to refer argued and submitted.

In the matter of the estate of Eloisa Harvey, Friday, April 2 for trial; motion of administrator for trial by jury denied. The trial is to determine the right of the claim against the estate of Mary Angeline Leahy.

COUNTY COURT.

In the county court yesterday morning was tried the case of John Mock vs. Frank B. Jones, the owner of the steamer Clatsop Chief. The defendant introduced no testimony, and after the argument of a motion for a non suit Judge Moreland instructed the jury to return a verdict for the defendant. The plaintiff was allowed ten days to file a motion for a new trial.

SUIT FOR WAGES.

W. C. Ballard vs. Lost Lake & Columbia manufacturing company, on trial before a jury in the county court. Ballard brought suit February 15 to recover $1[illegible]0 balance due for services of 1 5 days performed by plaintiff for defendant, in keeping books, shipping lumber and acting as general superintendent of the mill at the rate of $4 per day. Defendant in his answer denied that he agreed to pay Ballard any more than $2 50 per day, also that he only worked for him 100 days, and collected divers sums of money which he failed to turn over, amounting in all to $1[illegible]. Wherefore defendant asks judgment against plaintiff for $10[illegible] 53 and costs and disbursements.

POLICE COURT.

In the police court yesterday it cost John L. Battle $10 for discharging a shot gun within the city limits. Battle was shooting in the vicinity of Canyon Creek laundry Saturday last, and C. M. Patterson, pantsy, caused his arrest. Mr. Battle was simply amusing himself and didn't seem to know he was committing a breach of the peace. Patterson was himself but recently fined for the same offense.

No complaint has yet been filed against Annie Noyes, the woman charged with stealing a satchel and contents on board the steamer Oregon on her last trip up from another female passenger. The Noyes woman is out on her own recognizance.

Jim Casey, the old timer who got drunk Sunday morning and created quite a disturbance at First and E streets, was fined $5, which means Casey will do service for the city for two days.

The only other case was that of F. A. Beck, whom F. W. Lewis had arrested for driving a horse on the sidewalk on A street between First and Second last Friday. Mr. Beck after explaining to the court how narrow the street was said he was compelled to turn his horse up on the sidewalk to avoid colliding with an express wagon. Judge Dement promptly dismissed the case and scolded the complainant for bringing it, giving him to understand that the court was no place to settle such trivial matters.

NOTES FROM POLK COUNTY

MONMOUTH, Or., March 2[illegible].

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In your last weekly issue appears a paragraph headed "Was He Legally Married?" Section 10, chapter 4, Oregon code, reads, § 10: "A marriage solemnized before any person professing to be a minister or priest of any church or congregation of this state, or any judicial officer thereof, is not void, nor shall the validity thereof be in any way affected on account of any want of power or authority in such person, if such person was acting at the time in the office or capacity of a person authorized to solemnize marriage, and such marriage be consummated with a belief on the part of the persons so married, or either of them, that they have been lawfully joined in marriage."

Those persons mentioned are legally married, and a second ceremony would only place them in a position which would have to be explained and commented upon hereafter.

I am glad that mobocracy sought its hole without drawing the hole in after it, simply contenting itself with sheltering its head and leaving its posterior portions exposed. There is one thing in the discussion of the Chinese question that is not to be commended; that is 90 per cent of the people say what they think to be the right thing in the matter, and then by way of apology say that "I am sure not in favor of the Chinese." That is a sickness of giving way to a spirit of robbery that is unworthy of people who have truth and justice on their side. Many things not necessary to mention have been conceded to these rodents. The one thing they have no right to ask any man to discharge his hands and obtain others. This has been conceded to them. It is not just; they have no right to ask such a thing, especially when they insist that the discharged are to be replaced by less efficient hands and by hands to whom a higher rate of wages must be paid.

The prohibitionists met in county convention yesterday, the [illegible] and nominated a full county ticket. [illegible]

I notice some of your correspondents [illegible] the fact with a sort of [illegible] impression that the attendance at prohibition conventions is thin. Yes it is so; but this little swarm will carry a single feather around its circle [illegible] grand [illegible] that will see the two [illegible] and bear them in its [illegible].

A WORD FROM SHERIDAN.

SHERIDAN, March 2[illegible], 18[illegible].

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

What does not the city of Portland and with it the whole country owe you for the firm stand you have taken on the China question? The debt can only be paid in gratitude. Had other counsels been followed, what might have the condition of things in your fair city ere this? Then as a man in a man's place stand firm for mankind, irrespective of party, race or color.

If you covet appetite, flesh, color, strength and vigor, take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Sold by all druggists.

The Prohibitionists Select Delegates to the County Convention—A Merchant Boycotted—General Notes

PROHIBITION MEETING.

The East Portland prohibition club met at 8 o'clock last evening in W. C. T. U. hall, Vice President George Johnson in the chair.

The earlier part of the evening was taken up by speech making, pointed remarks being made by Cornelius Austin, J. W. Kern, C. J. Ward, E. Bonnet and D. T. Brown. The sentiment was almost unanimous in favor of nominating a straight out temperance ticket.

On motion the constitution was read by the secretary and the roll of membership opened. Several new names being added.

Rev. S. P. Wilson moved that the club proceed to nominate ten delegates to the county convention to be held in Portland on April 10. Carried.

Thereupon the following gentlemen were named and elected as delegates: J. W. Kern, D. T. Brown, C. Austin, George Johnson, J. F. Kern, H. C. Hobart, C. J. Ward, J. Bennet, S. P. Wilson and Edward [illegible].

Chairman Johnson said that the aim of the club is to create and foster temperance sentiment, and for that purpose weekly meetings would be held hereafter.

Rev. Mr. Wilson made an enthusiastic speech, in which he strongly denounced the office seeker who held one hand out to the saloon element and with the other sought to embrace decent people. Mrs. J. G. Ross followed with some scathing remarks upon the hypocrisy of politicians, and especially lashed a well known attorney, who, she said, went from the house of God direct to a saloon and there set up the drinks, in order that he might gain votes from the whisky element.

After some further discussion the club adjourned to meet next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the same hall.

NOTES.

Three horses languish in the city pound awaiting owners.

Mrs. A. Newell, of Lebanon, is visiting with Mrs. [illegible].

Smith and Proquet will this afternoon commence driving piles on the Columbia street bridge across the Willamette.

Mr. Charles Gladden, of Stephens's addition, left last evening for Albany and the Willamette valley on a business trip.

A two-year old child of F. A. Rankin, the baker, fell a distance of ten feet yesterday and narrowly escaped serious injury.

The next meeting of the Portland District Ministerial association of the M. E. church will be held in this city on the [illegible] of May, 18[illegible].

Miss Carrie Pape will leave to-morrow via Yaquina bay for San Francisco, to spend the summer among friends in the golden state.

The meeting in the interest of young men, conducted by Rev. A. P. Graves at the Baptist church last evening, was a spiritual success.

Perry Magness will leave to-day on the O. R. & N. line for the purpose of assisting in weighing mails between Wallula Junction and Dayton.

Friends of Mrs. John Powell will be glad to hear of that lady's recovery from rheumatic troubles that have kept her indoors for several weeks.

George West, an employe of J. J. Kadderly, returned yesterday, after completing a contract for tin roofing, in the interests of his employer, at Pendleton.

Rev. T. A. Hull and wife, of Ashland, Nebraska, arrived over the Pacific express yesterday afternoon and are the guests of Rev. S. P. Wilson. Mr. Hull purposes uniting with the Oregon conference of the M. E. church at its meeting in August next.

The little eighteen months old son of Wm. S. Blakney, residing on Asylum street, between Fifth and Sixth, sustained a severe fracture of the shoulder yesterday morning by falling while at play. Dr. Day Raffety reduced the fracture, and the brave little fellow is getting along nicely.

Prof. Wm. Crowhurst, state lecturer of the I. O. G. T., will deliver a series of temperance addresses in this city beginning on Monday evening next and continuing three nights. Mr. Crowhurst is a member of the California state board of education, and is highly spoken of as an eloquent and interesting speaker.

A slight fracas occurred on I street yesterday afternoon at one of the Chinese wash houses, in that thoroughfare. It seems that a little boy and a Chinaman became involved in an altercation, when a young man appeared on the scene and struck the Mongolian a crushing blow in the face. No recorder, hence no arrests.

The well known law firm of Jones & Merrick, heretofore composed of Ira Jones and W. H. Merrick, have added to their strength by admitting as a partner Hon. R. A. Jones, formerly one of the most eminent members of the Southern Minnesota bar. The firm thus reinforced have leased additional quarters at 147 First street, Portland.

Master Hart Gardner, who has been a faithful carrier of THE OREGONIAN in Holladay's addition, met with a painful accident yesterday morning which came near losing him the sight of his right eye. While splitting wood a small billet flew upward and struck the young man just over the right optic, severely bruising the flesh and slightly injuring the eye. With care, however, Master Hart will be as good as new in a few days.

PORTLAND'S LOSS

FARMINGTON, W. T., March [illegible].

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

Major Manning, deputy U. S. Marshal of Idaho, returning from the south fork of Coeur d'Alene and Rathdrum, gives the writer the following interesting items showing wealth of the Coeur d'Alene mines. The representatives of smelting works at Butte have contracted with several miners in the south fork for all the ore they can furnish up to 6,000 tons. Four thousand tons are stacked at dumps and [illegible] tons are at Kingston. Upon this quantity $[illegible] was advanced. The ore is carried sixteen miles to Old Mission, sixty miles by steamers on lake and river, and eleven miles from the lake to Rathdrum. A contract has been made with the steamer and Major Manning has examined into the matter with a view of contracting for the transportation between the lake and Rathdrum.

The price paid for the ore at the mines is $10 per ton; estimated cost of transportation to Rathdrum is $27 per ton.

When one considers that Farmington is but twenty three miles from the landing on the lake, the road passes through perhaps the finest agricultural and timbered section, the De Smet Indian withhold in Washington territory. It creates a regret that the O. R. & N. Co.'s lines are not to be at the mouth and to the mines.

At present Farmington is connected with the lake by an excellent wagon road. Steamers touch at Farmington landing at regular hours. This is the favorite route to mines from Eastern Washington. An easy railroad grade is found from this point to Lake Coeur d'Alene, passing through the finest body of pine, fir and cedar timber east of the Cascades, whilst the St. Joseph and St. Mary, deep slack water rivers, penetrate the heavily timbered section that would flank it out, reaching for seventy five miles. Steamers ply the St. Joseph fifty miles from its mouth. The great promise of these mines coupled with the constant traffic assured in bringing to the [illegible] acreless agricultural section traversed by the O. R. & N. lines in Eastern Washington, the lumber and furniture [illegible] are factors giving large promise in traffic. A progress through petition now being circulated and universally signed in Whitman and Nez Perce counties is asked that Indians at De Smet mission be allowed lands in severalty, and the remainder of the tract, fifty miles square, be thrown open to settlement.

Much speculation is indulged in as to the route that will be selected for the railroad from Spokane Falls to this great central wheat mart.

The O. R. & N. Co.'s survey terminates at this point, and early construction of the line is assured. The Northern Pacific has surveys both via Rosalia and Spring[illegible]. That via Spring[illegible] and Hangman creek is the shortest and most direct, and best. Its [illegible] control of the timber region [illegible] extensive [illegible] of the O. R. & N. [illegible] direction [illegible].

OREGON.

The citizens of Joseph, Union county, are bitterly opposed to the newly incorporated Wallowa Canyon toll-road.

Joe Smith, of Ferry Canyon, Gilliam county, was thrown from his horse last week and his shoulder was dislocated.

The hotels at Yaquina Bay are being enlarged, preparatory to meeting the increased demands of the traveling public during the coming summer.

The regular train on the Oregon Pacific railroad is unable to handle the large quantities of freight passing over the road, and extra trains have been put on.

A boy named Perry McCutchin, at Cottage Grove, was shot in the arm, the arm being broken, Wednesday, by the accidental discharge of a gun in a hack in which he was sitting.

Eugene Guard: Friday night, one week ago, dogs killed about $500 worth of Ned Humphrey's fine sheep. The next night he put out poison and captured about half a dozen of their worthless carcasses.

Wallowa Chieftain: F. A. Beard, of Lostine, while roofing a barn in Alder one day last week, slipped from the scaffolding and fell to the ground, a distance of about eighteen feet, dislocating his collar bone and receiving severe bodily injury.

Ochoco Review: Charles Johnson and Jesse Morrow, a couple of petit larceny thieves who inflicted their presence on our town this winter, drugged a poor idiot girl with whisky and indecently assaulted her, then stole a couple of bridles and decamped last Sunday night.

Marshfield Mail: At the Bay City mill last Tuesday Andrew Sondstrom had his left ankle broken and badly mashed by its being caught between the pony-saw carriage and one of the roller stands. The accident was the result of Sondstrom falling or jumping from the carriage while it was in motion.

Mountain Sentinel: While running a band of horses on Wednesday, between here and the Cove, Albert Coffin met with the misfortune of having his leg broken by his horse stumbling and falling upon him. He was brought home and a surgeon called, who dressed the wound. The fracture is just below the knee, the main bone being broken.

Albany Herald: Mr. Wallis Nash, vice-president of the Oregon Pacific railroad, was admitted to citizenship in the United States on Monday, by the action of the circuit court at Corvallis. Mr. Nash has for a number of years been intimately associated with some of the foremost enterprises of the state, and has taken so active a part in the welfare of the country that few perhaps knew that he was not until last Monday a full-fledged citizen of Uncle Sam's dominion.

About two weeks ago the house of Thomas Martin, near Cottage Grove, was broken into, and a silver watch valued at $20 was stolen. A few days thereafter one George Barnes sold the timepiece to Sam Veatch, of Cottage Grove, for $5. Last Monday Barnes entered the sheriff's office at Eugene and asked to be placed under arrest. Of course Sheriff Campbell willingly complied with his request. Monday afternoon he was given a preliminary examination, when he pleaded guilty to the charge and was bound over in the sum of $100 to await the action of the grand jury. Barnes is evidently anxious to get free board in the penitentiary.

Arlington Enterprise: Lewis I. Rowland was brought down on last Friday's Fossil stage, by special constable John Mires, and lodged in our jail on two charges of grand larceny. He was arrested at Fossil for stealing a horse from the widow Leslie, and a saddle from Dave Smith, and after an examination before Justice Kennedy, during which the prisoner admitted his guilt, was bound over to await the action of the grand jury, with bail in the horse case fixed at $500 and in the saddle case at $100. Ben Pettyjohn was also arrested as an accomplice, but was discharged for want of evidence.

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

WASHINGTON

Davenport now boasts a China washhouse, and wants a steam grist mill.

The residence of J Landers, of Walla Walla, was burned recently. Loss, $1000, insured, $700 cause, a defective flue.

Thomas McFadden, a logger at Phinney's camp, Vashon island, split one of his knee caps by a glancing blow of his ax Wednesday

The fool who annually travels about the country, stretching ropes across sidewalks, and taking gates off their hinges, has reached Stellacoom.

Dick Hutchinson, of Mondovi, Lincoln county, had his shoulder broken by being thrown from a colt, which he was trying to ride bareback

Mrs Mary R. Reis, wife of Adam Reis, of Seattle, has become insane, the effects of puerperal fever, and has been committed to the asylum at Steilacoom

Peter Andrews, a pioneer of King county, is dangerously ill at his residence in Seattle He has organic diseases of the heart, and it is feared he cannot recover

The directors of the Lewis County Agricultural society held a meeting last Saturday They decided to hold the annual fair for 1886 on the 28th, 29th and 30th of September.

Joel Miller, an employe of the Stetson & Post Mill company at Seattle broke his left arm above the wrist while at work Friday The fracture will prevent the use of the arm for some time

A freighter named William Morehead broke his whipstock while whipping his team, on the road between Spokane Falls and Colville, and one of the pieces flew back and put out his left eye

While hauling wood on his farm last Thursday, Merrit Wood, an old and respected farmer on the Satsop, had the misfortune to be caught [illegible] right leg

The valuation of property in Thurston county for 1885 is $-,078,346, and the amount of the school tax at 5 mills is $10,391 73 The total number of children of school age is 11[illegible] The apportionment in February per capita was $3

A HORSE THIEF [illegible]

Baker City Sage brush [illegible] The Swisher horse stealing case was brought to a termination Wednesday in the Baker county circuit court By the motion for a new trial being overruled and sentence of [illegible] years in the penitentiary being pronounced [illegible] The facts of the case are these In May, 18[illegible] Eagle valley [illegible] took [illegible] R A Whittaker of the same [illegible] along with a band of his own [illegible] of Nebraska, where she was sold [illegible] Whittaker, acting on [illegible] and right in the matter, [illegible] Whittaker that his mare was being driven out of the country, as soon as he saw her in Swisher's possession in Idaho territory [illegible] ed the matter being attended to [illegible] mare was kept track of, and subsequently [illegible] agent was sent to Nebraska, who purchased her for $100 and brought her back on the cars to Baker City. She appeared as a silent but emphatic witness. A great deal of interest was manifested in the trial, as the defendant is a man of considerable means, possessing also a most unenviable reputation.

COMMERCIAL.

MONDAY March 29

Weather clear and warm Rail arrivals from the East for the past two days were heavy and show a wide assortment The steamer brought a full freight. California fruits and vegetables did not realize full prices as a rule because of late arrival and unsatisfactory condition Cabbage sold up to 2¾c and this is the only change of note A few sacks of new potatoes arrived General trade is by no means dull but the produce markets are very quiet prices for most products being weak.

FREIGHTS—San Francisco reports a vessel taken for wheat and merchandise for Sydney Australia It is probable that she will [illegible] mostly merchandise taking some wheat to see what can be done with it Should Australia have the short crop expected of her the Pacific coast may be able to send some wheat in that direction The local freight market is inactive

WHEAT—The foreign markets show no change Chicago and New York are lower Here valley wheat is in liberal offering, but not at prices that attract buyers Many of the stronger interior holders entertain high ideas some of them express a determination to hold until offers come their way Receipts of Walla Walla are light and there is apparently no business in the grade Quotations are largely nominal [illegible] and $1 [illegible] expressing last bids with so [illegible] more necessary to buy But two vessels are now in actual loading berth here

OATS—Advices are weak and buyers here are holding back at this time They are receiving some bought last week but are not [illegible] with new business Bids are generally lower [illegible] being the extreme for best feed oats

POTATOES Weak with small [illegible] Advices are also weak New California are in the markets and soon there will be little [illegible] seed demand Quote [illegible]

ONIONS—Steady at [illegible] buyers not caring to take hold for shipment except at figures [illegible]

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK March 29 [illegible] were dull and steady The general impression [illegible] [illegible] the board was that the strike [illegible] [illegible] system had been settled definitely and absolutely and when the market opened first prices showed very decided gains over the closing figures of last week the advance ranging from [illegible] 2 per cent There was a rush to [illegible] stock and another rush by longs and for a short time excitement ran high Before the end of the first hour it began to be whispered however that there was a hitch the changes running on [illegible] settlement throughout the remainder of the day, and at [illegible] o'clock Wall street was uncertain as to whether work had been resumed or nothing would be done until further negotiations were settled. The market consequently was a hesitating one, with a drooping tendency After [illegible] o'clock there was decided weakness but there was a rally [illegible] before 3 o'clock the market closed firm [illegible] [illegible] fractions to over 1 per cent [illegible] losing figures of Saturday the greatest net gain [illegible] made by Missouri Pacific which shows an advance of 1⅝ at 108 after selling at 108

PYÆMIA the most virulent form of blood poisoning. Less speedily fatal but not less certainly so is the vitiation of the blood of which the first symptoms are Pimples, Sties, Boils and Cutaneous Eruptions When the taint of Scrofula gives warning of its presence by such indications, no time should be lost in using AYER'S SARSAPARILLA the only perfect and reliable medicine for the purification of the blood

SCROFULA a foul corruption in the blood that rots out all the machinery of life. Nothing will eradicate it from the system and prevent its transmission to offspring but AYER'S SARSAPARILLA This preparation is also the only one that will cleanse the blood of Mercurial poison and the taint of Contagious Diseases. Impoverished blood is productive of

ANÆMIA, A wretched condition indicated by Pallid Skin, Flaccid Muscles, Shattered Nerves, and Melancholy. Its first symptoms are Weakness, Languor, Loss of Nerve Force, and Mental Dejection. Its course, unchecked, leads inevitably to insanity or death Women frequently suffer from it The only medicine that, while purifying the blood enriches it with new vitality, and invigorates the whole system, is
